Message from the President

Greetings to you all. This year, 2016, has been an academically fruitful year. Beginning in April with the IAP-ID "Midyear Teaching Program" in Nagpur, Dr Anne Wilkinson conducted a very relevant teaching program viz. "Pathology of the Head and Neck". This is a uniquely Indian problem. The head neck area forms a large proportion of our work load, and we need to lead the world with our competence and experience. The speakers were all experts in this field of pathology and their delivery was both lucid, informative and engaging.

The second event conducted under the banner of the IAP-ID was the Annual CME, which was held in October of this year, in the financial capital of India, Mumbai. This CME was organized by Dr Anita Bhaduri, senior consultant pathologist at the Hinduja Hospital. The subject discussed were intriguing and fascinating as it dealt with "Image Guided Biopsies" from deep seated areas. Small biopsies are a boon to patients who can thus avoid scars and expensive hospital admissions, but they can be dangerous and difficult for young and inexperienced pathologists. The meeting was a grand success and many of the speakers were from UK, USA and also from different parts of India.

A happy event to make us all proud, is the felicitation and honour conferred to our Advisor and Past President IAP-ID and current IAP Vice President Dr Francisco Couto. In Germany, during the IAP World Congress, he was awarded the IAP Gold Medal for outstanding meritorious service by the International Academy of Pathology. He has worked for the IAP-ID and IAP quietly and sincerely without any fanfare, for the past 19 years. The IAP have been observing his dedication and single minded sincerity, and awarded him this honour. It is indeed a happy moment to remember that he is the only Indian so far to have received this honour of this prestigious Gold Medal.

Now the final event of this year is the Annual IAP-ID with a star studded program. Our foreign speaker is Dr. Alberto Mario Marchevsky, from Cedars-Sinai Medical Centre, Los Angeles, USA. He has chosen to speak on "Practical Approach to Mediastinal Tumors and Cysts", which is a difficult and engaging topic. Those of us who have heard him in the past, know of his expertise and experience. He is sure to give the audience a good exposure to mediastinal tumours, with pointers about handling them with confidence, especially as he also has a slide seminar on the same subject.

Slide seminar on "Transplant Pathology" by Dr Asim Das and symposium on "Granulomatous Dermatitis" by Dr Uma Saikhia and Dr Sharada Rane, both promise to be interesting and relevant, will benefit the delegates.

I urge all our members to attend the IAD-ID Annual Conference (which is part of the APCON 2016 conjoint Conference of IAP-ID and IAPM) in large numbers, and I look forwards to welcoming and meeting you all at this Conference in Jaipur, the Pink City of India.

With warm wishes,

Dr. (Mrs.) Roshan Chinoy
President IAP-ID

Let me begin by conveying my warm greetings and best wishes to you all. I wish all the members a Happy Diwali. I warmly welcome all the new members who recently joined the organization.

This issue of newsletter is out after long hiatus as we were unable to bring out January issue in time due some unavoidable reasons. We had successful and well organized annual conference at Kochi. I express my gratitude to Dr. Praseeda, Dr. Aravindan and their team for all efforts they have put in to make this event a memorable experience.

We started this year's IAP-ID academic activities with Mid-Year Teaching Programme in April on "Head and Neck Pathology excluding thyroid" which was organized by Vidarbha Association of Pathologists and Microbiologist at Chitnavis Center, Nagpur. This was followed by 19th Annual CME of IAPID on "Image guided biopsy interpretation: lessons learned in practice", which organized by Dr. Anita Bhaduri and her team from Dept. of Pathology, P D Hinduja Hospital and Medical Research Center, Mumbai. Both these meetings were well attended and grand success. I thank Dr Anne Wilkinson and Dr. Anita Bhaduri and their team members for successfully conducting these meetings on behalf of IAP-ID.

I take this opportunity to congratulate Dr. Francisco Couto on his great achievement of having conferred IAP Gold Medal at the recently concluded XXXI World Congress of IAP at Cologne, Germany.

This year the conjoint conference of the International Academy of Pathology – Indian Division and Indian Association of Pathologists and Microbiologists is being held at B M Birla Auditorium, Jaipur. We have put together an interesting scientific programme for the IAP-ID meeting on 1st December. I request the interested members to register and make use of the opportunity to update their knowledge and enhance their skills.

Before I conclude, I sincerely request all the members who have not yet paid their membership fees for this year, or are in arrears, to kindly pay their dues immediately.

I look forward to all the members for their support, valuable inputs and suggestions.

The Mid-Year Teaching programme of International Academy of Pathology – Indian Division was held on 10th April 2016 at Chitnavis Centre, Civil lines, Nagpur on the theme “Head and Neck Pathology excluding thyroid”. The event was organized by Vidarbha Association of Pathologists and Microbiologists. The program started with lighting of the traditional lamp. Dr Roshan Chinoy President of IAP-ID and Dr. Shantaveer Uppin, Secretary of IAP-ID were present during the occasion. Dr Anne Wilkinson, President VAPM welcomed the delegates and informed about the Mid-Year Teaching Session, for which Dr R Ravi and his team of Nagpur Surgical Pathology group including Dr Kamayani Deshpande, Dr Girish Moghe, Dr Arun Bharghadia, Dr Swati Kulkarni and Dr Anju Mundhada helped in organization. The first talk was by Dr Anita Borges and she spoke on The Unknown Primary. Dr Shubhada Kane, Professor and Head of Pathology TMH, Mumbai then discussed Sinonasal Tumors. Ophthalmic Pathology is a rarely studied or discussed topic. Dr. Geeta Vemuganti, Dean School of Medical Sciences, University of Hyderabad, led audience through the various lesions of the eye.

This was followed by a combined lecture on grossing techniques by Dr. Girish Moghe a Private Pathologist of Nagpur and Dr Abhishek Vaidya an Oncosurgeon. There were many Post graduate Students in the audience and it was necessary to make them aware of how to do the grossing of this area which is relatively rarely operated in all centers. Dr. Girish Moghe introduced the topic and Dr. Abhishek Vaidya. Oncosurgeon clearly expressed his opinion on how and from where to take sections and how it is important. He also emphasized on the necessity of surgeon to label the borders correctly and on need of pathologists to orient the sample properly before taking sections. This was followed by Dr. Shubhada Kane's lecture on model Pathology report. Post lunch, Dr Anita Borges discussed on Salivary Gland lesions – Cytology and histopathology which was a very interactive session.

Interesting case slides for viewing were kept for all interested delegates and right from the morning, delegates were busy looking at the slides whenever time permitted. The slides were collected by the NSPG and beautiful history and photographs were taken by Dr Kamayani Deshpande and Dr. Swati Kulkarni and displayed along each slide.
